5 internal links are broken

About this issue: Broken internal links lead users from one webpage to another and bring them to non-existent webpages. Multiple broken links negatively affect user experience and may worsen your search engine rankings because crawlers may think that your website is poorly maintained or coded. Please note that our crawler may detect a working link as broken.

Generally, this happens if the server hosting the website you're referring to blocks our crawler from accessing this website. How to fix: Please follow all links reported as broken. If a target webpage returns an error, remove the link leading to the error page or replace it with another resource.

If the links reported as broken do work when accessed with a browser, you should contact the website's owner and inform them about the issue.

5 +5

3 pages returned 4XX status code

About this issue: A 4xx error means that a webpage cannot be accessed. This is usually the result of broken links. These errors prevent users and search engine robots from accessing your webpages, and can negatively affect both user experience and search engine crawlability.

This will in turn lead to a drop in traffic driven to your website. Please be aware that crawler may detect a working link as broken if your website blocks our crawler from accessing it.

This usually happens due to the following reasons: 1.

DDoS protection system. 2. Overloaded or misconfigured server.

How to fix: If a webpage returns an error, remove all links leading to the error page or replace it with another resource. To identify all pages on your website that contain links to a 4xx page, click "View broken links" next to the error page. If the links reported as 4xx do work when accessed with a browser, you can try either of the following: 1.

Contact your web hosting support team. 2. Instruct search engine robots not to crawl your website too frequently by specifying the "crawl-delay" directive in your robots.txt.

1 internal image is broken

About this issue: An internal broken image is an image that can't be displayed because it no longer exists, its URL is misspelled, or because the file path is not valid. Broken images may jeopardize your search rankings because they provide a poor user experience and signal to search engines that your page is low quality. How to fix: To fix a broken internal image, perform one of the following: 1.

If an image is no longer located in the same location, change its URL. 2. If an image was deleted or damaged, replace it with a new one.

3. If an image is no longer needed, simply remove it from your page's code.

WARNINGS

20 0

15 pages have low text-HTML ratio

15 0

About this issue: Your text to HTML ratio indicates the amount of actual text you have on your webpage compared to the amount of code. This issue is triggered when your text to HTML is 10% or less. Search engines have begun focusing on pages that contain more content.

That's why a higher text to HTML ratio means your page has a better chance of getting a good position in search results. Less code increases your page's load speed and also helps your rankings. It also helps search engine robots crawl your website faster.

How to fix: Split your webpage's text content and code into separate files and compare their size. If the size of your code file exceeds the size of the text file, review your page's HTML code and consider optimizing its structure and removing embedded scripts and styles.

3 pages have too much text within the title tags

3 +1

About this issue: Most search engines truncate titles containing more than 70 characters. Incomplete and shortened titles look unappealing to users and won't entice them to click on your page. For more information, please see this Google article: <https://support.google.com/webmasters/answer/35624>.

How to fix: Try to rewrite your page titles to be 70 characters or less.

1 0

About this issue: Generally, using short titles on webpages is a recommended practice. However, keep in mind that titles containing 10 characters or less do not provide enough information about what your webpage is about and limit your page's potential to show up in search results for different keywords. For more information, please see this Google article: <https://support.google.com/webmasters/answer/35624>.

How to fix: Add more descriptive text inside your page's <title> tag.

1 page has a low word count

1 -1

About this issue: This issue is triggered if the number of words on your webpage is less than 200. The amount of text placed on your webpage is a quality signal to search engines. Search engines prefer to provide as much information to users as possible, so pages with longer content tend to be placed higher in search results, as opposed to those with lower word counts.

For more information, please view this video: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=w3-obcXkyA4>. How to fix: Improve your on-page content and be sure to include more than 200 meaningful words.

NOTICES

3 +2

2 pages require content optimization

2 +2

About this issue: Content optimization enhances on-page clarity, improves user engagement, snippet eligibility, and topical authority. It's especially important for pages with a lot of content. Well-optimized content ensures structuring and efficient token usage that AI search engines can summarize more reliably.

How to fix: 1. Follow the advice provided in the error details for each page. 2.

Improve your content with AI using the Content Optimizer tool.

1 page has only one incoming internal link

1 0

About this issue: Having few incoming internal links means little to no visits or chances of being placed in search results. AI search engines use internal linking patterns to understand content importance and relationships within your site's knowledge network. Pages with few internal links may look less authoritative to AI algorithms and reduce your content's visibility and citation potential.

How to fix: Add more incoming internal links to pages with important content.
